ABOUT ME

I am a 22-year-old Computer Science Engineering student with a strong commitment to excellence and punctuality. My meticulous and detail-oriented approach allows me to tackle projects in an organized and efficient manner, always meeting deadlines. I possess technical skills in programming, problem solving and data analysis, and have the ability to adapt quickly to new technologies in a constantly evolving field.

I am excited to contribute to challenging projects and collaborate with professionals in the IT field, with the goal of driving innovation and making a difference in the world of technology.
